

Early Employment Debate

Directions:

For this activity, you will participate in a class debate concerning students having jobs. The class will be divided into two groups— one will argue for students having jobs and the other will argue against students having jobs. Your group will be given time to prepare major points of your argument, then your group will present your points in a debate-style discussion.